CIF Training Program Delivery 2023

CIF Learning & Development program for January to March 2023 provide our members to our full range of online program deliver of our accredited programs via Zoom. Over the past number of year CIF Learning & Development have supported our members in the development of their teams and in 2023 we will continue to provide high quality accredited program content to meet your business needs. This also ensure the safety of all our delegates while continuing to support the key learning needs of the CIF members and our wider client base within the industry. CIF Learning & Development continue to an increased demand for online training program content, and it is our strategy for 2023 is to continue to offer all of our program content online. We also recognise the need for the return to classroom environment for delivery of our program content, to this end we plan to offer based upon demand inhouse and classroom-based delivery upon request.

Important note:

For those of you who currently hold the CIF IOSH Managing Safely in Construction (MSIC) course, there is no need to redo the new course as the content for CIF IOSH Safety for Construction Managers Program (SCMP) is largely in line with previous program and the current IOSH MSIC Certificates still stands as a recognised qualification. Please ensure those of you that hold CIF cards undertake the renewal every three year which is now only available online see information below.
