CIF Training Program Delivery 2024

CIF Learning & Development training brochure for January to March 2024 provide our members details of our full range of online/classroom programs which are accredited by IOSH and City & Guilds. Over the past number of years CIF Learning & Development has supported our members in the development of their teams and in 2024 we will continue to provide high quality accredited program content to meet your business needs.

This also ensures CIF learning & Development continues to strongly support the key learning needs of the CIF members and our wider client base within the industry. CIF Learning & Development commits to continue providing the online training program content, while moving slowly back into public program with a classroom delivery offering in 2024. CIF Learning & Development also recognise the need for the return to classroom environment for delivery of our program content, to this end we plan to offer a limited number of classroom delivery programs while continuing to support members without inhouse training supports.

Important note:

For those of you who currently hold the CIF IOSH Managing Safely in Construction (MSIC) course, there is no need to redo the new course as the content for CIF IOSH Safety for Construction Managers Program (SCMP) is largely in line with previous program and the current IOSH MSIC Certificates still stands as a recognised qualification. Please ensure those of you that hold CIF cards undertake the renewal every three years which is now only available online see information below.

Renewal of the CIF IOSH Managing Safely in Construction (MSIC) course now (SCMP)

If you have already completed the CIF IOSH Managing Safely in Construction (MSIC) now CIF IOSH Safety for Construction Manager Program (SCMP), you must undertake the online renewal every three years via the link below.
